“My parents were Herman and Nancy's next-door neighbors up until their passing. My husband, children and I got to know both of them throughout our many visits and enjoyed them very much. Following my father's debilitating stroke, Herman and Nancy stepped in to assist my mother as much as possible. Even though Herman had begun to have health challenges, he would gather his tools and come over to fix things and check on Dad. When Dad passed away in December of 2006, we asked Herman to officiate his funeral. Herman put such a nice touch on a very sad day for us. When Mom became too ill to remain in her home, Herman continued to look after her home and as we prepared to sell the house, Herman could no longer do the work needed himself, but he arranged for the work to get done and he kept the workers in line and on time! Herman was a good Christian, husband, father, grandfather and neighbor. It was an honor to know him and have him involved in our lives. Our prayers are with his wife, Nancy, and the rest of his family. We are very sorry to have missed the service having only found out today of Herman's passing. God bless and keep all of you.
