“ Barbara was the first person to share the simplicity of identification. I was enthralled by her energy and love for helping others. One of our last conversations was 9 hours long. We caught up and held each other's hearts during a challenging time. Her faith was an example to me. There was a plaque on her wall, in Sand Springs, that read, "God saves the very best for those who leave the choice to Him.". Those words come to me before, and after I have made a decision. I loved her. She held my heart when my mother was dying. She cancelled date night and came to my side. My sisters surrounded me with Barbara when I walked into her house that night. She knew what I needed and had already prepared me a circle of love. I miss you Barbara.
