“My deepest sympathy and condolences to the family! Chandra was a dear sister-friend. She would have you laughing. I met her through my sister and they used to come visit and I'd go visit them in OK. One of my favorite memories are when we'd all , included Raven, (she loved her little sister) would hop on bus a mile from home and go to Big Splash! Then one day we took bus to the Mall. I will never forget when we went to Olive Garden to eat she was teasing her sister about getting this guy waiters phone number. So on a dare she bribed her with a dollar and said you get his number and Raven was like No you get his number... it went back and forth for awhile. Idk if they ever got his his number but it was hilarious. Another memory is when she came up to my place near the lake and we spent the day at beach. She was a character! She loved cats and this cat my mom was babysitting had a unique meow- she really loved her. She was a good person to animals. Then at home my uncle was up visiting from Arkansas and she was so polite. She engaged with my Uncle over his military service. She just had a way of charming people. Making people feel included. Another memory was when we were at the mall- she was scared to get on escalators. She really wanted this fairy lamp. I told her if she got on the escalator to go down to this particular store- I'd buy her that fairy lamp! I got it for her- she did it! She loved fairies and wizard of oz trinkets. She loved all things leopard prints! We enjoyed going to the park with my dog to walk and play on playground....I have so many good memories with her. I'm gonna miss her! She was like a sister to me and my sister. She was my sisters best friend over 15 years! I no she struggled since she was a young girl with multiple brain surgery and one of my last in person visits with her was after her last brain surgery. My sister and I took her to Mexican and she was still relearning how to walk and talk, but we still had a great time. She seemed to be doing so much better it was a shock to learn of Chandra's passing! I no she and my sister are having a reunion together and no longer in pain. I've kept a lot of our video chats so I'm glad I have those to remember her by. She also was my vent buddy. If I was having a bad day or if she was we'd call each other up. Chandra was a great sister-friend! I could go on and on with good memory of her!
