“ Dwight, it was nice to see and visit with you in the last few years. We talked about when we were little and all the fun we had at Grandma Walker's house (and that darn swinging bridge that you guys used to scare us little ones with)! It was great spending some time with you and I will truly miss you. I think you had a great and interesting career and wish we had spent more time together discussing it. . Rest in peace and may you spend all eternity with God and your loved ones. I will see you again ! Love you.
