“ Ken was a good friend to me and my wife, Carol. We met him several years ago in McDonald's at Wal-Mart with his younger brother, Gary. My wife and I would walk and then go for coffee there and they invited us over to their table once and then starting having coffee and visiting almost every day until he went to the hospital a month ago. What I enjoyed about Ken the most was his pleasant smile and laugh. Often I would read a funny story and he always seem to enjoy the story with a good laugh. Although his wife was unable to meet us for coffee, we always felt like we knew her because she began sending us emails with good things to enjoy and appreciate. We will certainly miss Ken here on this earth, but hope to be with him in heaven one of these days.

“ Our hearts are broken after learning about our classmate Ken. We remember the kind person who was in our life as we were growing up and finding our way. He was a very special person in so many ways. Our thoughts and prayers go out to his family at this sad time.
