“ I am so sorry to have read of your loss. Please accept my sincere condolences. The Bible is a great source of encouragement at times like this. Something that I have personally found to be of great comfort is what the Bible says at John 5:28, 29 (Do not be amazed at this, for the hour is coming in which all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out, those who did good things to a resurrection of life, and those who practiced vile things to a resurrection of judgment.) As well as Revelation 21:3,4 (With that I heard a loud voice from the throne say: "Look! The tent of God is with mankind, and he will reside with them, and they will be his people. And God himself will be with them. 4 And he will wipe out every tear from their eyes, and death will be no more, neither will mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore.) These verses show us that soon God is going to bring about a resurrection of our loved ones as well as do away with all causes we have for suffering including sickness and death. Knowing this has always comforted me and it is my sincere hope that these thoughts comfort your family as well. Again I am so sorry for your loss and May Jehovah God bring you comfort during these difficult times. Your neighbor, S.Rubio

“ To the entire Smith family, my condolences, prayers, and love are with you during this time of pain and sorrow. Nothing anyone says can assuage the pain you feel right now. But perhaps my mother's last thoughts before her passing can be of some comfort. I have often found solace in her final thoughts. I pray that you may also... DON'T MOURN FOR ME... When I die, don't mourn for me. Celebrate the life I had. Raise your hearts to accompany me on my afterlife trip. When I get where I'm going, I'll send them back to you with hope and love and memories. With these I'll fill your hearts! So I won't be forgotten by you... And your love for me I won't forget. I'll visit you on my off days Protect you from harm; like you did for me back when I was alive! So, don't mourn for me; Celebrate the life I had and be happy that you knew me like no one else did! May God bless you and keep you safe during this time of sorrow. Please know that my entire family is praying that God eases your pain and sorrow during this difficult time. All our love!
