“It was my privilege to meet R.D. many years ago. It was plain to see the godly choices he and his precious wife had made by the godly children they had. And now, as someone else mentioned "he has finished his race" I try to imagine his wonder and joy as he is gazing on the One who gave up everything to pay his debt and win R.D.'s love. I can picture him care free, worry free, pain free, assured his Lord will be closer to Betty and his children and grandchildren than he could ever have imagined. My love and prayers are with them.
